RUSSIAN FEAR OF A DISASTER

Absence of Official News Is Pessimistically Interpreted in Many Quarters---Present Battle More Important Than That of Liao-Yang.

Mukden, Oct. 12—4 p. m.—Stubborn fighting is still in progress this being the third day of the engagement. It is impossible at this time to say what has been accomplished. Hospital trains are continually arriving from the south. The wounded are being sent further north. A dressing station has been established on the station platform here, where nurses and surgeons give prompt attention to the most urgent cases before the trains proceed.

No Official News.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 12, 2:30 a. m.—No official news of the result of today's battle south of Mukden is available at this hour. General Kuropatkin doubtless has communicated his regular report to Emperor Nicholas, but the dispatch was not sent home to the general staff tonight. So the latest word from Russian sources is contained in the Associated Press dispatch from Mukden.

As is natural the absence of official news is pessimistically interpreted in many quarters, but the general staff, though prudent, counsels patience, pointing out that the offensive movement was planned on a large scale and has not yet reached a stage where a decisive result could have been attained.

Wide Field Involved.

The frontal attack on the Yentai mines developed a desperate battle in which probably 200,000 men are engaged, but through the dispatches so far deal almost exclusively with this feature of the battle it is pointed out that there is a much wider field involved. A fight on the Russian left flank has not yet developed and possibly here General Kuropatkin intends to deliver his main blow. What force is pushing forward in the direction behind the mountains commanding the railroad at Shantintzu is unknown, but the appearance tonight of a Russian column at Tayetchuan, 35 miles southeast of Mukden, striking at Field Marshal Oyama's communications with the Yalu and the knowledge that another column is already across the Tai-tse river gives evidence of the wide nature of the turning movement.

A Possible Feint.

It is possible that the attack on the Yentai mines may simply be intended to hold the main Japanese force stationary, and that the outcome of the Yentai fight may have little bearing on the result of the general engagement. While it is generally admitted that General Kuropatkin enjoys a numerical superiority, the main fear expressed is that this superiority is insufficient to enable him to carry out the big operations he has undertaken.

Apprehension is caused by the Tokio dispatches stating that Field Marshal Oyama reports that he is pushing ground and has cut off a Russian column below the Taitse river. It is only natural, after the repulses Russians already suffered, that Russians fully realize how much General Kuropatkin has staked on the assumption of the offensive.

Defeat Means Disaster.

[illegible] only will outweigh in importance the hard fight of Liao-yang. For Kuropatkin victory, partial or complete, is necessary. Defeat would certainly spell ruin for his military reputation and probably cause a disaster of the first magnitude to the Russian army. If the Japanese should roll up Kuropatkin's advance now, all hope of an aggressive Russian success in this campaign or of relief of Port Arthur would be ended probably for this year but Russian success now means a winter campaign and immensely enhanced prestige, not only for Kuropatkin personally, but for the Russian arms in Manchuria in the eyes of the Chinese which is an important factor in the present situation.

Despair for Port Arthur.

The effect side of defeat upon the brave garrison of Port Arthur, after hopes of relief had been held out would be most disastrous.

Put all these reasons, General Kuropatkin's friends are convinced that the offensive was taken with open eyes and with a full appreciation of its difficulties and a firm belief that victory would be achieved.

On the other hand, some of his enemies are inclined enough to intimate that General Kuropatkin has rashly risked his army, asserting that victory now will lessen his reputation as commander in chief of both Manchurian armies.

OYAMA'S CAMPAIGN PLAN

Purpose of the Japanese Field Marshal Was to Attack the Enemy's Main Strength.

Tokio, Oct. 11—4 p. m.—General activity has been resumed in the theater of war. It is believed here that a general engagement is progressing between Liao-yang and Mukden.

Field Marshal Oyama has met General Kuropatkin's advance with a general advance of the main strength of his forces along the broad front.

The opposing forces were in touch yesterday and it is believed that a great battle south of the Hun river is inevitable.

Besides this direct movement the Russians are attempting to strike the Japanese right at two points widely separated.

A considerable force of Russians which was sent across the Tai-tse river 35 miles east of Liao-yang has apparently been isolated by the Japanese cutting its rear and the reports of its defeat or capture is expected.

Kuroki's Report.

The following report from the headquarters of General Kuroki's right army was received today:

"On the morning of October 9, a body of the enemy crossed the Tai-tse river from the north at Wenning Ying toward Chiaotao and entrenched between Chiaotao and Benshihu. Its strength was one brigade of infantry and some cavalry with two guns. East of Benshihu, on the north bank of the Tai-tse the enemy's strength was increased to one brigade of infantry and 1,500 cavalry with eight guns.

"The enemy in the direction of Taipao Shan is a mixed brigade. There is also a regiment of infantry at Manchuapo and another at Pachiapao, both of which are west of Benshihu. Their rear seems to be occupied by forces of some strength.

Advance on Center Made.

"General Nishi's center army [illegible] at 6 a. m. on the 9th, the enemy's advance guard [illegible] retreating from Chaotao, [illegible] Pachiapao and Lutsiapao, on the afternoon of October 9 a column of the enemy advanced southward from Lutsiapao along the railroad. The advance has reached to the south of Wenchiatun [illegible] Lutsiapao there has also appeared a body of Russian infantry marching in three detachments which seem to be strongly supported.

"The line of the enemy advancing along the railroad is five miles long and its rear is not visible.

"A body of the enemy is posted in the hills east of Panchiapao.

"At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the ninth, two regiments of Russians entered Laitkeou and a regiment of cavalry entered Lower Laitkeou. They advanced to Shentzuhsu. The enemy's whole strength, one division, advancing towards our front."

The headquarters of General Oku's left army, telegraphing on October 9, says:

"The enemy does not show much activity. His main strength appears to be posted near Lantsunkow and Sunchihtai."

Oyama's Plans.

Field Marshal Oyama telegraphs on October 9, says:

"Our right has dispatched a detachment to reinforce the garrison at Chiaotao.

"Since October 7, we have attacked at Sikoushan. Two west-bank forces of the enemy that have appeared at Benshihu, the garrison there has been reinforced.

"A battle is progressing but no particulars regarding it have been received. The center and left are still fighting.

"It is my purpose to resume the offensive on the tenth before the enemy succeeds in concentrating his force on the left bank of the Hun river and to thus attack the enemy's main strength.

Kuroki Held His Positions.

Reporting on October 10 General Kuroki says:

"Communication has been established with our detachment at Benshihu. Our detachment fought against superior strength for 12 hours. The most severe engagement was near Benshihu.

"All our positions were successfully held.

"On Wednesday [illegible] the Russians have counterattacked.

"The [illegible] of the enemy reached to [illegible] which.

"The force of infantry at Tunmentzu is one brigade.

"It is said the Russians attempted [illegible] against our forces and [illegible] with a portion of our force.

"Reinforcements from our army [illegible] at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of the ninth. A portion reached Benshihu at night and another portion of point Tunmentzu.

"The Russians are assembling at Pentsiahu and Tsaipo."

Two Hundred Women Celebrate Silver Jubilee of the Colorado W. C. T. U.---Three Days' Session.

Colorado Springs has been signally honored in having been chosen as the meeting city for the holding of the 25th annual convention of the Colorado Women's Christian Temperance union and their Silver Jubilee. The local unions have labored unremittingly all summer for the success of this most notable gathering in the annals of the organization and the result is that every arrangement is being carried with clock-like precision.

Regular sessions began yesterday morning at 9 in the auditorium of the First Christian church and will be continued through tomorrow, day and evening. About 200 delegates are in attendance. The opening service was in charge of Mrs. D. M. Hayes. It consisted of responsive reading of the Crusade psalm (form), singing of Crusade hymn, "Give to the Winds Thy Fears" and prayer.

Then followed roll call by Mrs. Cora L. White, recording secretary; reports of executive committee, and appointment of committees, as follows:

Courtesies—Mrs. A. E. Cowell, Colorado Springs; Mrs. Katherine Tyler, Denver; Mrs. Adrianna Hungerford, Denver.

Credentials—Miss L. A. Dwight, Boulder; Mrs. T. A. Barlow, Colorado Springs; Mrs. H. A. Downey, Trinidad.

Award of Membership Banner—Mrs. A. C. Wollerton, Denver; presentation, Mrs. J. A. Harbaugh, Colorado Springs.

Mrs. A. A. Richardson, president of the Eighth district, conducted the district rescue hour and then came the reports of local officers, reports, with the exception of that of the treasurer and finance committee, which will be given this morning.

Consecration service was impressively conducted by Mrs. Hamilton at 11 o'clock.

The afternoon session began at 1 o'clock with a conference of the state vice presidents and Y. and L. T. L. secretaries with the workers. Mrs. Alice M. Dixon led the devotional exercises at 2 p. m.

Mrs. N. L. Hollingsworth of this city gave an original poem.

"Silver Bells."

Our silver bells are ringing,
Ringing as they sing and clear,
Telling the glorious story
Of our years of conflict past;
Telling the sacrificial service,
Of women, prayer and tear,
Whose hearts were fired with a noble aim and goal
Knowing naught but to dare and to do.

[illegible]
Our silver bells are ringing
Ringing as they sing and plead,
Telling the glorious story
Of our years of conflict past;
Telling the sacrificial service,
Of women, prayer and tear,
Whose hearts were fired with a noble aim and goal
Knowing naught but to dare and to do.

[illegible]
Our silver bells are ringing
Our voices and hearts and pens
When millions take up the strain
And send back the glad refrain
Of our work, pure true and loyal,
Be filled with a purer hope
They dared to enter the fields of sin
With no darkness and [illegible]
rest

[illegible]
They [illegible] to strike the [illegible]
[illegible] Rules and [illegible]
The [illegible] voted
[illegible]
And [illegible]
[illegible]

But they fired mother's heart to action,
And bid her to dare and to do.

To do for home and loved ones,
For country and native land,
To tear down the strongholds of evil
With our loving, united hand.
Our band with her simple emblem
Of ribbon, so white and pure
That no spot or stain or blemish
Can in its presence endure.

Then rang out, O bells of silver,
This grand anniversary year,
Telling the wonderful story
Of our trials and triumphs so dear,
Telling of pains and heartaches,
Of toils and of victories won;
Telling of [illegible]
With God and his blessed Son.

Telling the old, old story,
With its message of love and light,
Telling the sweet, new story
Of sins redeemed from blight.
Then for the glad morning when
O'er mountain and hilltop and plain,
Till all hearts are attuned to the music
And join in the glad outer refrain.

Mrs. Antoinette A. Hawley, president of the organization, delivered a very masterly address which was received with marked attention and the frequent applause showed the sympathetic and appreciative appreciation of her comrades. In part Mrs. Hawley said:

Mrs. Hawley's Address.

This famous car has broken record [illegible] on a circular and straightaway course, and it was in Denver last year that Oldfield covered a mile a minute faster than any other driver has ever covered by other chauffeurs from 1 to 10 miles.

Mr. W. H. Pickens who is at the [illegible] for the past four years, is the following to say of Oldfield.

"It was Oldfield who drove the 999 machine at the Empire City track in New York in July 1902, a mile in 55 1-5 seconds [illegible] ing that the track is [illegible] the time is remarkable. Except [illegible] Joe Newton, who is driving the same machine this year, no other driver has gone within [illegible] records of this time. A Pretty Presentation.

At the Baptist tabernacle this afternoon the ceremonies were very pretty. A large banner of white satin, with a large number of white carnations on it, was presented on behalf of the young women of the C. W. T. U.

A number of solos were rendered during the afternoon. Mrs. Edmonston, who exhibited her pledge of "Home, Sweet Home," composed by Payne, Mrs. Thompson of Pueblo, Mrs. Jones of Georgetown, Mrs. Barnes of Colorado Springs, Mrs. Noble of Colorado Springs and Mrs. Chase, Denver.

A very appropriate anniversary poem was read by Mrs. Ella Stevens Chamberlain, also one of the pioneer W. C. T. U. members.

Fraternal greetings were given by Miss Forsyth, Pueblo, for the Colorado Springs Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Sarah Pendle Kelley, Denver, secretary; Miss F. A. Flood, State Missionary; address and Mrs. E. L. C. Dunlap, Wyoming, a talent.

Church Decorations.

The church presented a handsome appearance for the afternoon session. A large portrait of the beloved Frances E. Willard, draped with white ribbon and large clusters of white chrysanthemums and palms. A large white ribbon bow, with large clusters of white chrysanthemums and palms, was suspended from the chancel. A number of beautiful floral offerings, both male and female, were received during the day.

Dinner and luncheon were served in the basement of the church yesterday by the ladies of the church, assisted by the members of the north end union. Today the Pearce Refining Company has charge of the dinner and luncheon and tomorrow the Grand Encampment of the Knights Templar of the north end union, and the ladies of the Methodist church will be in charge. Beautifully decorated tables, with white and gold as the color scheme, and other lasting features of refreshment were served and the ladies were in appropriate dress and the menu excellent.

MAYOR WELCOMED DELEGATES AT SESSION LAST EVENING

An audience which filled the auditorium of the First Christian church and overflowed into the lecture room attended last evening's session. The president, Mrs. Hawley, presided over both gatherings including the devotional exercises with quiet and unassuming grace. Although limited to five minutes each, the state president, Colorado and Wyoming, the Colorado W. C. T. U. and also received in all its parts.

The speakers were: For the City, Mayor Ira Harris; for the Schools, Superintendent John Imbrie; for Colorado College, President William F. Slocum; for the Churches, Rev. C. E. Wilcox, D. D.; for the North End, [illegible] for the Press, [illegible] Post.

Mrs. Pitts entertained some local representatives of public organizations, including officers of W. C. T. U., Anti-Saloon league, the Anti-Cigarette league and Prohibition league, also personnel the library that has been effected by Professor Patrick relating to scientific temperance instruction in schools and the promising young student, John Booth, who has won prizes for temperance oratory in eastern cities.

Miss Hungerford's Response.

Miss Hungerford, state superintendent, made a very fitting response for the state W. C. T. U., after which one of Colorado Springs' favorite sons, Rev. Frederick Hamilton, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered the principal address of the evening. He said in part:

"The white ribbon is the badge of purity. It is the emblem of the white life. It is the symbol of the white soul. It is the sign of the white heart. It is the token of the white hand. This organization has accomplished very much during the past week. All its work is voluntary, done in the spirit of Americanism.

Two prominent women have been in headquarters every day ready to vouch for unregistered women. This service is also voluntary.

A feature of the work of this club is that no carriages are used and those who go to the court house to vouch for an unregistered voter walk there and back.

At the meeting tomorrow afternoon 12 women will volunteer for service one day of the following week, two a day. They will be at headquarters from 10 to 12:30 and from 2 to 4:30 except when at the court house or going to and from that building.

HER DISCOVERY WAS STARTLING

LADY GUEST AT HOTEL FOUND SURPRISE AWAITING HER WHEN SHE OPENED TRUNK—A FUNNY MISTAKE.

There was an interesting time at the Spalding house yesterday when Mrs. W. J. Thompson, a lady arrived from Salt Lake City, ordered her trunk sent to her room.

The porter brought the trunk as ordered but, when the lady opened it, she did not find a wardrobe of silk waists, petticoats, and other feminine apparel, but instead a goodly assortment of trousers, fancy vests, and several boxes of cigars. The lady was quite infuriated but a careful research proved that the trunk was the one which her baggage check called for. A card inside the trunk gave the address of the owner as the Hill of St. Louis.

As Mrs. Thompson is on her way to the World's fair, she decided to leave Mr. Hill's trunk here and, upon her arrival at St. Louis, she will call upon the club and have her trunk forwarded to him to send to Colorado Springs for his.

No doubt both parties would like to get their hands on the baggage clerk who made the mistake in Salt Lake City.

LESSEES ON RAMONA MAKE GOOD OUTPUT

On the North End of the Property the Ore Is Coming From a 12-Foot Vein Near the Shaft on the 300-Foot Level.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 12.—Henley and [illegible], operating under lease the north end of the Ramona claim, are sending out on an average of five carloads per month, which run all the way from an ounce and a half to three ounces to the ton. The ore is being taken from a 12-foot vein of rock broken from a 12-foot vein of rock a short distance from the shaft on the 300-foot level. While the entire rock in the vein carries values, there are streaks of much richer ore which run from [illegible] to the ton.

Henley and associates, who are operating under lease the south end of the claim, are now drilling on the 300-foot level for the large ore chutes which they encountered on the level above, and which has produced so large amounts of good shipping ore.

The lessees during the work of drifting at this point encountered a streak of ore which, when broken down with the rock for a distance of [illegible] returned values of from $30 to $40 to the ton. Regular shipments are being maintained by the lessees.

The prospects of the Ramona property are unquestionably bright at this time and with the opening up of the lower levels the lessees are now running [illegible] and with the completion of the [illegible] ore will be obtained.
